STORMIN' GORDON

MS Gulf Coast braces for storm expected to make landfall as Category 1 hurricane

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

Tropical Storm Gordon was expected to make landfall somewhere around on the MS Gulf Coast as a Category 1 hurricane late Tuesday, according to the National Hurricane Center. Gordon formed in the Gulf early on Monday and by Monday evening, the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast was under a hurricane warning. "Reports from an Air Force Reserve Unit reconnaissance aircraft indicate that maximum sustained winds remain near 65 mph with higher gusts," according to the NHC's noon Central Time report on Tuesday. "Some strengthening is expected later today, and Gordon is forecast to be a hurricane when it makes landfall along the north-central Gulf Coast. Rapid weakening is forecast after Gordon moves inland. Tropical-storm-force winds extend outward up to 80 miles from the center." The NHC said it expected tropical storm conditions to begin Tuesday afternoon along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, with hurricane conditions expected by Tuesday evening. A few tornadoes were also possible, the NHC

The Hancock EMA advised that the National Weather Service currently predicts a 3-5 foot storm surge impacting local coastal areas beginning Tuesday evening along with heavy rainfall and high winds. All Hancock County, Bay-Waveland and Catholic schools closed Tuesday. The public schools will also be closed Wednesday, but as of press time, the Biloxi Diocese was still monitoring the weather before deciding whether to cancel classes for Wednesday. ABC busts moonshine operation in Kiln

NEWS EDITOR

While most Coast officials were busy preparing for Tropical Storm Gordon on Tuesday, the "revenueurs" had another mission in mind -- Mississippi Alcoholic Beverage Control agents on Tuesday busted a Hancock County moonshine operation and arrested a 66-year-old Kiln man. Early on Tuesday, ABC agents executed a warrant on Hubert Dedeaux Road in north Hancock County and "discovered Donnie Ray Cuevas in the process of cooking whiskey," according to an ABC press release.

Cuevas was charged for possession of an illicit distillery. The search resulted in the seizure and destruction of approximately 300 gallons of moonshine whiskey; 800 gallons of mash; 2,600 pounds of sugar; 624 gallon dubs; a 200-gallon stainless steel cooker; and a copper condenser, according to the statement.

"It is estimated that the loss of federal and state taxes from this operation is $3,360 a week," ABC agents said. No bond had been set for Cuevas at press time Tuesday. Tuesday's bust was the second in Hancock County this year. In Both the Hancock County and Bay-Waveland school districts announced on Monday that all schools would be closed on both Tuesday and Wednesday in advance of Tropical Storm Gordon. St. Stanislaus College, Our Lady Academy and Holy Trinity Catholic School all closed on Tuesday, but had not yet announced whether they would be open Wednesday as of press time. All PRCC campuses closed at noon on Tuesday and the school announced they would re-open for classes at 8 a.m. on Thursday. As of press time Tuesday, PRCC dorms were expected to remain open.

Hancock supers hear from Pearlington league organizer

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday heard from Shondricka Lee, CEO of Pearlington Royalty Association, about the organization's use of the Pearlington Gym for a Hancock County Youth Basketball League, which is expected to run from October 2018 to March 2019.

Lee said Pearlington Royalty Association is "striving to grow, build and inspire our community," in a safe and structured environment.

In addition to allowing the youth players use of the gym, Lee said, the organization would also like to use the gym for fundraising events and other programs.

Lee said the league would like to use the gym on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lee also asked for a printed set of rules and regulations and how the group would gain access to the gym.

Board attorney Gary Yarborough asked if the group was a 501 (c) (3).

Lee said it will be an LLC. The group also has a board, of which Lee is the president, she said.

Yarborough asked Lee when the group planned to obtain the LLC. Lee said when they get the organization going.

"The board would have to someone that would sign on behalf of the association or behalf of the LLC until the LLC is finalized," Yarborough said. "If you get the LLC finalized ASAP, I would prefer handling it that way. The board would have to declare public property to be surplus for those times."

Lee said that once the league starts, it will obtain insurance on everyone in the building.

Yarborough added that the county would also have to be included.

He also told Lee that he "would prefer to have an LLC," and that it is not too difficult to obtain.

"If y'all can by the next meeting, get an LLC form with the name of the organization, we can go ahead and I'll do the approval in that name," Yarborough said.

Board President Blaine LaFontaine said he believed the consensus is that "everyone is in complete support of Pearlington and the Royalty Association."

Yarborough told Lee that if she could get all the information to him by mid-next week, he would have it ready for the board's approval at the Sept. 17 meeting.

In other action:
The board recessed Monday's meeting until Sept. 6 at 8 a.m. to complete the public hearing for the proposed FY 2019 budget and tax levy.

The State of the County Address has been rescheduled for Sept. 13 at 8 a.m. at the Hollywood Casino ballroom.

The board scheduled a meeting for Sept. 14 at 8 a.m. to adopt the tax levy and FY 2019 budget.

The next regular board meeting is scheduled for Sept. 17 at 9 a.m.

Mississippi reports four new West Nile Virus human cases

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) on Tuesday reported four new human cases of West Nile virus (WNV), bringing the state's total to 30 so far for 2018. The reported cases are in Harrison, Hinds, Lauderdale and Rankin counties.

So far this year human cases have been reported in Adams (2), Calhoun (2), Copiah, Forrest (2), Harrison (2), Hinds (11), Itawamba, Jones, Lauderdale, Madison, Marion, Oktibbeha, Pearl River, Rankin, Walthall and Washington counties. In 2017, Mississippi had 63 WNV cases and two deaths.

State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers reminds all Mississippi residents that they should take precautions against WNV, regardless of reports of human cases in specific counties.

Byers said that Mississippi is in its peak WNV season of July through September, and that while most people with WNV infection recover without any long-term problems, some develop a more severe infection that can lead to complications and even death -- especially those over 50 years of age.

Symptoms of WNV infection are often mild and may include fever, headache, nausea, vomiting, a rash, muscle weakness or swollen lymph nodes. In a small number of cases, infection can result in encephalitis or meningitis, which can lead to paralysis, coma and possibly death.

The MSDH suggests the following precautions to protect yourself and your family from mosquito-borne illnesses:

- Use a mosquito repellent with an EPA-registered ingredient such as DEET while you are outdoors.
 - Remove all sources of standing water around your home and yard to prevent mosquito breeding.
 - Wear long, loose clothing to cover the arms and legs when outdoors.
 - Avoid areas where mosquitoes are prevalent.
- For more information on mosquito-borne illnesses, visit the MSDH website at HealthyMS.com/westnile.

A Simple Idea That is Changing the World

SEA COAST ECHO

Stars of HOPE is transforming the way people express compassion and connectivity following disasters by painting meaningful words and images on wooden star.

What makes stars of HOPE so powerful is that it has turned a therapeutic arts program into a community-wide public art installation which extends the healing power of these beautiful stars to thousands of people dealing with the traumatic after-effects of disaster.

Stars of HOPE believes you can give someone else hope - from across the street to across the country and the world.

Everyone can be empowered to find the words to paint on a wooden star that will lift spirits - and let people know that they are not forgotten.

Stars of HOPE is transforming the traditional disaster relief dynamic of food-clothing-shelter by introducing a critical fourth element - HOPE - into the immediate and long-term recovery process. Stars of HOPE become new landmarks in towns left barren by twisters, blackened by fires, flooded by hurricanes or left emotionally adrift by catastrophes and acts of violence.

You are invited to help paint these stars on the lawn at Main Street UMC Saturday, Sept. 8, from 4 until the stars run out.

Looking out for the safety of hunters

It's now that time of year that we take to the fields, woodlands, and waters not only to experience the excitement of hunting, but also to enjoy the beauty of Mississippi's outdoors. The increasing criticism of today's hunting problems points directly at the misuse of the privilege of hunting. Tomorrow's privileges may rely on our ability to correct such misuse through education and example. Hunter education is a step in the right direction.

Mississippi's hunter education programs promote responsible, ethical conduct, emphasize the importance of wildlife management, and encourage the safe handling of firearms and ammunition. Students of hunter education courses develop a better understanding of their responsibilities to the wildlife resource, the landowner, other hunters, and themselves. In addition, statistics prove that the number of hunting accidents is significantly lower for individuals who have completed a hunter education course.

In 1988, a law was passed by the Mississippi Legislature that requires all persons born on or after January 1, 1972, to complete a hunter education course prior to purchasing a hunting license.

A course in hunter education provides one with many facts about hunting such as hunter ethics and responsibility, the history of firearms, firearms handling and safety, accident prevention, ammunition safety, ballistic and range, hypothermia, marksmanship, safe shooting zones, water safety, and wildlife identification. Hunter education also teaches the importance of wildlife management and conservation, as well as game care, specialty hunting (muzzle loading, bow hunting, and handguns), first aid, and survival.

Written laws cannot ensure the safety of all hunters; therefore, each hunter should follow an unwritten code of ethics. Hunters' codes are based on respect for wildlife, the land we live on, and others' rights, as well as for themselves.

Irresponsible hunters give a bad public image of all hunters. There are many things a responsible hunter can do to improve their image. Hunters should always leave fences and gates as they found them. When livestock is allowed to get loose, the landowner ends up doing additional work. Thoughtless use of vehicles often damages fields

We long for pieces of life's puzzle

I did not realize it until years later, but I had been waiting for you all my life. I just knew that something was missing, but I did not know what." Going a step further, we sometimes ask, "Where have you been all my life?" And that is not a come-on! A final step reaches higher, "You are a Godsend. I cannot believe how much. How could I possibly be so blessed?"

How many of us have either said this to someone else or heard this and similar statements made to us from time to time? Whether we are the giver or the recipient, it fires our spirit, sets our mind to soaring and makes our heart go pitter-patter with thanksgiving, gladness and wonder. When someone, for whom we have been unknowingly waiting, walks into our life, it is a very memorable event.

However, that memorable event is not always a bundle of smiles, laughter and spirited conversation. The atmosphere at the moment may be serious, sober, even somber, for the missing – now found – piece of your life's puzzle may be one who takes you to task for your deficiencies and liabilities. It may be one who is not afraid to challenge you in your way of thinking, forming opinions and expressing them to others. That piece of your puzzle may not hesitate to take you down from your high horse when you are feeling your oats too much.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

There is the dynamite puzzle piece – sometimes more than one – who does what no other piece does, driving you constantly, relentlessly to be all you can be and to fly higher than you ever thought possible. This puzzle piece is determined to see to it that all your raw potential is converted into concrete, dazzling results. Thus the Master himself pushes us in John 10:10 in his treatise on the Good Shepherd, "I came so that they might have life and have it to the full."

As we experience various stages of our sojourn here on earth, we treasure the companionship, counsel, sharing, generosity and love of special people who make the trip bearable, interesting, productive and a fitting introduction to the everlasting life of God and heaven. Through this valley of tears, with all its trials, labors, contradictions, sufferings, sickness, delicious foods and drinks, modern appliances and cyber gadgets, entertainment, joys and sorrows, we smile, laugh and cry together with the motley pieces of our puzzle.

All this indicates that the best puzzle pieces are those who are mutual and reciprocating, not only fitting into someone's life as a Godsend, but feeling that the puzzle piece recipient is also a Godsend without whom life would be incomplete. Alas, there are those puzzle pieces for whom we have not been waiting, have not been expecting and have not wanted to come, but they came anyway. They, too, are important puzzle pieces, part of the master plan that uses unpleasant people and unpleasant things as the daily crosses Jesus bids us to shoulder and carry each day.

But, while we bemoan the objectionable people and things that punctuate the landscape and crosses of our daily lives, let us not be deceived into denying that the worst crosses of our lives often originate within ourselves and our own character and personality flaws. These puzzle pieces can be the most troubling of all. As Pogo the sage cartoon character said ca 1970, "We have met the enemy and he is us."

Some of our puzzle pieces made their grand entrance into our world at a very early age. Many of them were children just as we were, while some were older than we varying in age from teenagers to young adults to middle-aged and seniors. Every single one of them has a special place and function in "Welcome to my world!" Still of great importance, some puzzle pieces enter our life at the eleventh hour, causing us to wonder how and why Providence kept us apart for so many years. In any case, we can say, "Thank God for bringing us together, albeit at a late hour in life."

At length, the missing puzzle piece may be the one to push you over the top as you spread your arms to embrace the realities of your final moments here on earth and as you reach upwards toward the unknown kingdom promised to us by our most loving Creator in heaven. We get a hint of this in 1 Corinthians 2:9, "What eye has not seen, and ear has not heard, and what has not entered the human heart, what God has prepared for those who love him."

It is far more than a trite comment to say, "It takes all kinds of people to make a world." By God's providence, our personal world and the rest of the world deal us an incredibly stunning variety of personalities who become the puzzle pieces that bring into our lives such meaning, strength, joyful sharing and hope for eternal life.

Government needs to stay out of the way

Dear Editor,

My compliments to Guest Opinion writer Wyatt Emmerich in his August 29 piece "Mississippi experiencing low levels of unemployment." I couldn't agree more with his finding that "The main thing the government needs to do is GET OUT OF THE WAY and let free people better themselves with a minimum of artificial constraints." In the last 19 months, the household income of the average U.S. worker has increased 4% to an all-time high of $62,450. Business activity, measured by the Gross Domestic Product (GDP), has exceeded 4% for two quarters in a row after languishing in the 1% to 2% range for the previous 8 years. The recent improvements have evolved due to the new administration's massive reduction in costly government regulations, a large tax REDUCTION, and new trade agreements that provide a level playing field after years of one-sided agreements favoring other nations over the rights of our US workers.

As Mr. Emmerich notes, Mississippi is experiencing low levels of unemployment precisely because, at least recently, government IS getting out of the way. God Bless Mr. Emmerich.

Diamondhead

Hancock Tourism: Come Play on the Bay! See it, live it, love it!

Visitors to the Mississippi Gulf Coast have much to choose from when it comes to exploring our sun-soaked area. While there is plenty to see and do for all ages up and down the coast, no trip here is complete without a visit to the historic L&N train depot in Bay St. Louis.

For many years the depot was a stop on the old Louisville and Nashville Railroad line which carried passengers, commuters from New Orleans, and military troops. The original depot, built in 1876, was a wooden, two-story, Queen Anne-style structure complete with a full-service restaurant. After the dining car was introduced, the restaurant closed. Local entrepreneurs seized an opportunity and began selling fresh fish and oyster sandwiches to the travelers who much preferred these over the dining car fare.

Fire completely destroyed the building in 1928, and in 1929 the current Spanish Mission-style building was constructed in its place. Passenger service continued until the 1960s when it was replaced by freight traffic only. The depot became a stop again when passengers rode the rails briefly during the World's Fair in New Orleans in 1976, and also in 1993 with Amtrak's Sunset Limited service from Los Angeles to Miami.

Hollywood took an interest in the depot in the mid-1960s where they filmed much of the movie "This Property is Condemned," with stars Robert Redford, Natalie Wood, and Charles Bronson. Bay St. Louis purchased the depot in 1991, and in 1992 it was designated a Mississippi Landmark. After undergoing a $1 million restoration, it reopened as a venue for receptions and special events.

Passenger rail service through Bay St. Louis ended in 2005, but use of the depot did not. Health care and emergency personnel were housed in the building following Hurricane Katrina, and in 2008 the Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau opened the Hancock County Visitor Center.

Although it stands cheerfully in a quiet, out-of-the-way location, the depot attracts thousands of visitors annually and is an artist's dream. The building's stately architecture is a huge draw for photographers and anyone with an eye for design. Once inside, the art show continues.

On display are over a dozen plumed, sequined, and heavily embellished costumes from our local Mardi Gras krewes.

Music lovers will enjoy an entire wall devoted to the paintings and a recorded history of Mississippi Blues artists, while another extensive display showcases a bicentennial tribute of our fair state. The Alice Moseley Folk Art and Antique Museum, on the second floor, is home to the work of the late local folk artist Alice Latimer Moseley.

Freight trains operated by CSX continue their journey through town to far-off locales, but there is a renewed interest in returning Amtrak passenger service to the Mississippi coast. In the meantime, while it awaits the next chapter in its storied life, the depot will continue to make a lasting impression on all who enter its doors.

The depot is located at 1928 Depot Way and is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission and visitor information are free.

He lived bigger than life and will be forever missed by his family and friends.

September is Library Card Sign Up Month

SEA COAST ECHO

The Incredibles are joining the American Library Association (ALA) and libraries nationwide to encourage the public to obtain a free library card as Honorary Chairs of Library Card Sign-up Month this September. The Incredibles will use their superpowers to remind families, students and people of all ages that signing up for a library card is a great step toward a truly super lifestyle.

Providing free access to STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts and math) programs, educational apps, in-person and virtual homework help and technology workshops, a library card is one of the most cost-effective back-to-school supplies available. Library Card Sign-up Month is a time to highlight the supportive role libraries and librarians play in transforming lives and communities through education. Studies show that children who are read to in the home and who use the library perform better in school and are more likely to continue to utilize libraries as a source of lifelong learning.

Since 1987, Library Card Sign-up Month has been held each September to mark the beginning of the school year. During the month, the ALA and libraries unite together in a national effort to ensure every child signs up for their own library card. The library system's web page, www.hancocklibraries.info, provides library users 24/7 access to our catalog and more than 110,000 print and non-print resources with a library card.

Area football teams all wind up in ‘L’ column

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

For the first time in recent memory, all four area teams suffered a loss on the gridiron on Friday night. Despite the constant threat of rain throughout the coastal area, all the games were played with no interruptions.

The Bay High Tigers (0-3) had a change of venue before their game against the Long Beach Bearcats. Due to the amount of rainfall during the week, the game was moved to Bay High; however, that did not stop the relentless offensive attack of the Bearcats en route to a 53-21 victory.

The Bearcats enjoyed a 33-7 lead at halftime.

Skyler Primus had 12 carries for 81 yards and a touchdown while Sema’j Robertson added 62 yards on 10 carries and two touchdowns. Dominic Anderson also had 81 yards on nine carries.

On defense, Bay High was paced by Maxwell Lewis with seven stops and Nathan Fleming had five tackles.

This week the Tigers make the long road trip to Monticello to take on the Lawrence County Cougars. Last Friday the Cougars (2-1) shut out Raleigh 17-0 at home.

The Hancock Hawks (2-1) traveled to Gautier on Friday undefeated but came home with a 34-20 loss after spotting the Gators a 17-0 halftime lead.

Trenton Ladner scored on runs of two and six yards while Caleb Garcia hit Peyton Miller for an eight-yard toss for the third score.

Defensive figures were not available for the game.

The Hawks are idle this week.

The Pass Christian Pirates (1-2) took it on the chin for the second consecutive week with a 42-14 road loss to Perry Central.

The Bulldogs enjoyed a 29-0 advantage. Dustin Allison scored on a one-yard run and he tossed a 35-yard aerial to Damonta May for the Pirates’ other score. Gordon Ward converted on a two-point conversion for the final score.

This Friday the Pirates will travel to West Harrison (1-2) who fell to South Jones 24-6 on the road last Friday.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (0-2) were swamped by the St. Paul’s Episcopal Saints of Mobile 35-7. The Saints (1-1) were ranked #6 in the state of Alabama at game time.

Delvin Henry recorded his second consecutive 150+ yards rushing game with 20 carries for 170 yards and a touchdown. Pat Greer was 7-for-17 for 83 yards and three interceptions. Dallas Payne led the receivers with three catches for 54 yards.

On defense, Thomas William’s recorded nine tackles followed by Lee Negrotto with eight stops and two hurries. William Weber had seven tackles and Trustin Northington tallied eight stops with a pass break up.

This week the Rocks will be back ‘between the walls’ to host St. Martin High School. The Yellow Jackets (2-1) fell to Crestview of Florida 17-1 at home.

All games are set for 7pm kickoff. See you at the game!

The trout are really out there, when the weather cooperates

Our guides have been battling plenty of wind and rain the last couple days, but that's kinda the norm for this time of year.

When the weather breaks, we have been doing well on the trout, and very well on the red fish. I think we have seen more bull red fish this year, than we have in a very long time. Yes, they will all but completely shut down a good trout bite, but man they are fun to fight.

One thing I like to do in between fights, or when I am moving from spot to spot is feel the leader on my fishing line. We fish around oyster shells, rocks, pilings, and rubble fairly regularly. Even a good bite on white trout will put small nicks and burrs in your line. When that next big fish hits, you need to be ready for it. So it is important to change your leaders out regularly. If you can see or feel anything odd on your leader line, change it!!! You never know when that fish of a lifetime is gonna hit, so always try to be ready for it. Remember, Luck is just when preparation meets opportunity.

As always, have fun and be safe

ALICE MOSELEY FOLK ART & ANTIQUE MUSEUM
1928 DEPOT WAY
BAY ST LOUIS, MS 39520

"There should never be a price to look at art," Alice Moseley

Bay St. Louis has long been known as a place that attracts and inspires artists.

In 1988, Alice Moseley found Bay St. Louis while attending the Beach Front Festival. She was 79 at the time, having begun her art career at 65.

According to the Alice Moseley Folk Art & Antique Museum, it was while driving over the Bay Bridge that Miss Alice said to herself, "This is it. This is where I'll spend the rest of my life."

Indeed, she spent the rest of her years in Bay St. Louis, capturing the city in her paintings, while winning over the hearts of its residents and visitors. Many folks have fond memories of visiting the artist at her Blue House near the Depot District where Miss Alice would invite anyone who passed by to "visit a spell."

"She was a character," said Lonnie Falgout, a personal friend of Miss Alice who has lots of fond memories of spending time with her. Falgout is now an advocate of her legacy and the Alice Moseley Folk Art & Antique Museum.

Today the museum resides in the Bay's historic train depot, near a big oak Visitors are welcome to come learn about Miss Alice, other local folk artists and see her family's collection of antiques Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free.

The newly renovated museum lends itself to up close and personal self-tours of art and antiques, and also offers daily guided tours. Tour groups and school groups are encouraged to call in advance to schedule an appointment.

"The original layout of the museum was more a replica of her house," said marketing director Shannon Wooten. "The new renovation has made this a museum everyone is proud of."

In addition to Miss Alice's 47 original works, the museum features art by Bob McGraw and Henry Stillier. Art coordinator Lilliana Gandour hopes to work with more local artists to host special exhibits. There's still a corner of the museum dedicated to showing Miss Alice's life as it was in her house, complete with her vest, hat and a nod to her trusty little dog, Herman.

The Moseley Museum is also becoming more involved in the community. Over 1,000 art and music lovers attended the inaugural Alice Moseley Fun Festival. The festival featured five bands - including headliner Amanda Shaw and showcased work by dozens of local artists.

The museum will also bring Miss Alice into the classrooms and continue to invite classes to tour the museum.

"Tim Moseley, Alice's son, has been a driving force of the museum and has created a foundation to contribute to its growth, including providing the Alice Moseley Pavilion on the lawn of the train depot.

It's also Mr. Moseley's personal antique collection that is a highlight of the museum tour.

"We are curating Mr. Moseley's collection to show art history through glass and pottery," said Wooten.

Alice Moseley found solace from a tough time in her life through the power of creating artwork. The museum hopes to inspire others to find therapy through art.

"We are the only art museum in Bay St. Louis - and perhaps in Hancock County," Wooten said. "We celebrate Miss Alice, but also other artists. Our mission is to inspire all artists, no matter your age."

BAY-TIQUE
125 MAIN STREET
BAY ST LOUIS, MS 39520

"Bay-Tique: Slightly edgy, always fun."

Jane Stricker Kulpeksa used to overhear her guests at her Carroll House Bed & Breakfast say that while they found lots of antiques and treasures in Bay St. Louis, they had trouble finding shirts, hats and other Bay branded trinkets to bring home as souvenirs.

She got to designing and Bay-Tique was born on July 4, 2013 carrying mostly her now iconic Bay St. Louis and Bay Rat apparel for men and women.

"The staple of our business is the Bay St. Louis tees, hats, gifts and souvenirs," she said. "That's something I'll never let go of."

Since then, Bay-Tique and Bay St. Louis as a whole - has gained a reputation for carrying some of the best women's apparel on the coast.

"Old Town Bay St. Louis has a wonderful reputation for having wonderful women's boutiques," said Kulpeksa. "We work together to sell different types of clothing in each shop and not duplicate each other, which is very unique and says a lot about Bay St. Louis."

She travels the country to go to markets trying very hard to find domestically made, locally made and socially responsible products. Some of the proceeds of goods, like postcards made by local artists, go to benefit local organizations like the Friends of the Animal Shelter.

"I do lots of research before I go to market," Kulpekka said. "It's important to me to understand vendor's fair trade practices."

In addition to local artists and makers, Bay-Tique carries popular brands like Sanuk footwear, Hobo Bags and wallets, Quay sunglasses and more. Other popular items include the recycled canvas bags and Dune Jewelry made with sand from Bay St. Louis.

"It's not easy," said Kulpekka. "Finding fair trade goods is a lot harder than I thought it would be, but I've set the bar really high for myself and my shop to have a large percentage of socially responsible goods."

Kulpekka credits her right-hand, Karen Grumbine for the prosperity of the shop. "Finding Karen was part of the key to the success of Bay-Tique," she said. "She's so passionate, organized, enthusiastic and loves the shop like her own."

"I'll see a retired woman come in and buy and kimono and a 17 year old comes in and falls in love with the same thing," said Kulpekka.

No matter the age or aesthetic, another thing Bay-tique clients have in common is their love of the atmosphere and comfort they feel while shopping.

"My favorite thing is being in the store and seeing people come in and having fun," said Kulpekka. "Often times they are running around trying on hats, shoes, clothes, prancing around in our vin-

Bay-Waveland Garden Club celebrates its 80th anniversary

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club is celebrating 80 years of service to the communities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland on Sept. 27.

On that date in 1938, a group of ladies assembled at the home of Mrs. J. Roland Weston, on South Beach Boulevard, pursuant to a call issued for the purpose of organizing a Garden Club for the Bay-Waveland district, the same as exists in other coast towns. And also, with the ultimate idea of affiliating with the federated clubs of Mississippi. The By-Laws adopted services to the community to include the advancement of gardening, the development of home gardens, youth club gardens, the furthering of city beautification, and protection of native trees, shrubs, pollinators, birds, and the conservation of air, water, and soil quality.

These goals have been met throughout the years with club projects such as International Beach Clean-Up, Arbor Day, Spring Pilgrimage, Bay St. Louis Community Garden, Library Floral Arrangements, Library Tree Gala, and Annual Christmas Flower Show, Back Yard Habitats providing food, water, and shelter for wildlife, teaching fire safety and respect for the environment through the Smokey the Bear and Woodsy the Owl Poster Contests in local schools, and school gardening projects.

Mrs. George R. Rea was elected President, Mrs. Alice C. Buckley Vice President, Mrs. E. Mogabgab, Secretary, and Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Treasurer. Others in attendance at the first meeting were: Mrs. Edward C. Carrere, Mrs. M. A. Briggs, Mrs. James A. Evans, Mrs. A. T. Terry, Mrs. C. G. Moreau, Mrs. H. C. Glover, Mrs. Max N. Kohler, Miss Elsa Spurl, Miss Hilda Spurl. (Sea Coast Echo, Friday, September 30, 1938).

The very next year, in 1939, the Club achieved federation with the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, and dove right in showing homes and gardens in the Bay-Waveland area in the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs Annual Spring Pilgrimage.

In 1970, Mayor Warren Carver, answering the need for a cultural center in Bay St. Louis, turned over the Taylor School on Leonard Avenue to the Garden Club knowing the club would meet the agreement with the Taylor family and the city of providing educational programs in the facility open to the public. The members refurbished the building from the ravages of Hurricane Camille, and the Bay-Waveland Garden Center was their meeting place until 2005, when Hurricane Katrina destroyed the building. A new replica of the building was built with FEMA funds on Main St. in Bay St. Louis. The Garden Club members, with their treasury, furnished the building, and held their meetings there from 2009 until 2014.

In 1972, Bay-Waveland Garden Club won the National Helen Hussey

Champlin Award for outstanding service in promotion of gardening among youth.

In 2015, the club was voted the best Garden Club in the Mississippi Spanish Trail District.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club's work is ongoing with the same enthusiasm as the original founding members established. The meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month from September through May at the Old Town Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis. A "Coffee Social" begins at 9:30, and the meeting at 10:00am, with a guest speaker providing an educational program on gardening and related topics.

Meetings are open to the public and guests are always welcome.

Little Theatre begins new season with 'The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance'

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will open its 73rd season with the popular western "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" written for the stage by Jethro Compton based on a short story by Dorothy M. Johnson.

The show opens Sept. 21. It leads the great entertainment scheduled for the 2018-2019 season.

The Little Theatre will be accepting new membership enrollment for the new season until September 15th. Information about BSLLT membership is on the website www.bsllt.org.

"The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" captures the true spirit of the Wild West. This is a classic story of good versus evil, law versus the gun, one man versus Liberty Valance. The Wild West is a world where life is short and full of danger and the characters are bold. It is a tale of love, hope, and revenge.

The movie version of "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" was made in 1962 and has remained popular to this day. The popularity is due mainly to its stars Jimmy Stewart, John Wayne, and Lee Marvin.

The show is directed and produced by Cheryl Grace. Jen Coulter is assistant director. The cast includes Barry Newman, Terry Cullen, Shannon Wooten, Matt Issman, Linda Allen, Fred Varnado, Jim Codling, Jim Fraiser, Dave Kernion, Irv Hansen, Gloria Noonan, Lex Mauffray, Paul Bernard, Paul Fraiser, and Judy Marquez. The Stage Manager is Maggie Wooten. Jen Coulter did set design and construction. Emma Rabalais is manager of sound and lights. Judy Marquez is show seamstress. Volunteer coordinator is Rachel Anderson. Sound effects and promotion is done by Clayton Pennylegion.

"The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" opens the new season of shows on September 21st, 2018. Show dates and times are September 21, 22, 28, 29 at 8pm; and September 23 and 30 at 2pm. Doors open one hour before the show and seating starts 30 minutes before each show.

Seat reservations can be made by calling 228-467-9024 or email the Little Theatre. Reservations for seats are recommended for all ticket holders including season ticket holders to be able to

Hancock Food Pantry needs a volunteer to pick up food at Keesler AFB Commissary

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County Food Pantry has been receiving recovered food from the Keesler AFB Commissary since 2012 -- an average of 50,000 lbs a year.

Recovered food are items that are about to reach their "best if used by" date and instead of being thrown away into a landfill are put aside and donated to the Hancock County Food Pantry where the food can be given away to low income families in Hancock County who desperately need the food.

The Food Pantry currently has a very urgent need for a volunteer to pick up this donated food at the Keesler AFB Commissary beginning immediately. Pickups occur whenever Commissary personnel have accumulated enough food, anywhere from several hundred pounds to a thousand pounds or more and could occur once a week or several times a month.

Due to the quantity of food that must be transported from the Keesler Commissary to the Food Pantry, a pickup or van is highly recommended.

The Food Pantry can provide reimbursement of $0.14 a mile for a volunteer who uses their personal vehicle to pick up this donated food at the Keesler AFB Commissary and transports the food to the Hancock County Food Pantry located at 9972 Hwy 603 in Bay St. Louis.

A military retiree would be preferred since their military ID would make it so much easier for them to gain access to the Keesler Commissary.

However, a civilian volunteer can also gain access to the Commissary but must go through the Visitor's Center -- just requires a little more time.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering to pick up this recovered food at the Keesler AFB Commissary and transport the food to the Hancock County Food Pantry, should call Tom Woolbright, Deputy Director, at 601-818-1966 or John Wittliff, Treasurer, at 225-329-9446.

bicycle to go shopping, make doctors' appointments, attend church, and generally get around.

The society is asking for donations of any adult men's or women's bicycles that are in reasonable shape or that can easily be repaired.

If you have any bicycles that are not in use and you would like to donate to people in need please contact Bill McIntyre at 504-232-1033 or Mike Richardson 228-216-4621. Thank you very much for your donations.

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Members of the Gulfport chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta sorority -- which includes many Bay-Waveland-area residents -- volunteered at the King's Kitchen last Saturday to serve food to deserving members of the community.

"Service is one of our founding principles," Zeta Phi Beta member Simone Fairly said, "so we decided to come out and serve the community here at King's Kitchen."

"This is our big community project," Dorothy Booker, who organized Zeta Phi Beta's participation, said.

Joyce Burton, the Gulfport chapter president, said Zeta Phi Beta is always interested in helping the community, and the King's Kitchen does so much, they wanted to serve here.

"The King's Kitchen is such a wonderful organization," she said.

Zeta Phi Beta ($\Sigma\mu$) is an international, historically black Greek-lettered sorority. In 1920 five women from Howard University envisioned a sorority that would raise the consciousness of their people, encourage the highest standards of scholastic achievement, and foster a greater sense of unity among its members. These women believed that sorority elitism and socializing overshadowed the real mission for progressive organizations. Since its founding Zeta Phi Beta has historically focused on addressing social causes.[2]

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc. is a non-profit 501(c)(7) organization that is divided into eight intercontinental regions and 800+ Chapters located in the USA, Africa, Europe, Asia and the Caribbean.
